

Coastal Retreats

In getting next to nature, we nurture our need for getting away

The top-floor living room and deck of Steve and Pam Zeasman's urban retreat open wide to views of Puget Sound from Alki Point. The three-level, three-bedroom home, designed by the architectural firm Arellano/Christofides, is supported on 55 steel pin piles sunk into beach sand.